Debbie Hudgens, President

First of all I want to say "Thank you!" to all our members and guests. This opportunity to serve you has been amazing and I'm so thrilled to be a part of this most important time of our lives. The best is yet to come and I could not be in the company of a more enthusiastic, hard working group of people Let's keep the energy going! On Monday March 25, 2024, Stephen Rowe from Leadership Institute held a training class for using AI in Politics. It was a fun; informative event and we are so thankful to Stephen for helping us. About 70 people attended this event. Next month we will dive into how AI can help with Social Media. Please watch for this announcement and attend.

I asked ChatGpt how AI can help political campaigns and here's what it said:

AI can be instrumental in various aspects of political campaigns, offering sophisticated tools and insights to streamline operations, optimize strategies, and engage with voters more effectively. Here are several ways AI can help political campaigns:

Voter Targeting and Segmentation: AI algorithms can analyze vast amounts of demographic, socioeconomic, and behavioral data to identify potential supporters and undecided voters. By segmenting the electorate based on various characteristics, campaigns can tailor their messaging and outreach efforts to resonate with specific groups.

Predictive Analytics: AI can forecast voting behavior, predict election outcomes, and identify trends and patterns that may influence campaign strategies. By analyzing historical data, polling information, and real-time social media sentiment, AI can provide valuable insights into shifting public opinions and help campaigns adapt their messaging accordingly.

Personalized Messaging and Advertising: AI-powered tools enable campaigns to create personalized messages and targeted advertisements tailored to individual voters' preferences and interests. By leveraging data analytics and machine learning algorithms, campaigns can deliver more relevant and compelling content across various channels, including social media, email, and direct mail.

Social Media Monitoring and Sentiment Analysis: AI can monitor social media platforms in real-time to gauge public sentiment, track conversations related to the campaign, and identify emerging issues or trends. Sentiment analysis algorithms can analyze text data to determine whether online discussions are positive, negative, or neutral, allowing campaigns to adjust their messaging and respond to concerns promptly.

Optimized Fundraising Strategies: AI algorithms can analyze donor data and predict which fundraising tactics are most likely to generate contributions. By identifying high-potential donors and optimizing fundraising campaigns based on donor preferences and behavior, AI can help campaigns maximize their fundraising efforts and increase their financial resources.

Volunteer Management: AI-powered platforms can streamline volunteer recruitment, scheduling, and engagement by matching volunteers with tasks that align with their skills and interests. By automating routine tasks and communications, campaigns can ensure that volunteers remain actively involved and motivated throughout the campaign.

Speech and Debate Preparation: AI-powered speech analysis tools can help candidates prepare for debates and public appearances by providing feedback on their delivery, tone, and messaging. These tools can analyze speech patterns, body language, and audience reactions to identify areas for improvement and enhance the candidate's overall effectiveness as a communicator.

Issue Monitoring and Policy Analysis: AI can analyze news articles, policy documents, and public statements to track issues relevant to the campaign and provide insights into policy preferences and public opinion. By staying informed about current events and policy developments, campaigns can adapt their messaging and positions to align with evolving voter priorities.

Overall, AI offers political campaigns a range of powerful tools and capabilities to better understand, engage with, and mobilize voters, ultimately increasing their chances of success on Election Day. However, it's essential to use these technologies ethically and responsibly to uphold democratic principles and protect voter privacy.

President Award, Joni Hammond

Joni is a conservative activist living in Sparks for 6.5 years. She works hard to engage and be knowledgeable in areas such as school board meetings, County Commission meetings and just recently the Republican party. She wasted no time jumping in headfirst to apply herself where ever needed. As the 1st VP position was opening, she stretched herself beyond her quiet nature for a visible, most important position. Her attention to detail and love of our country and state has helped us plan and execute engaging and informative speakers. She is key to making our monthly luncheons work smoothly. She is a joy to work with and I am so blessed to have her as a co-worker in this effort.

Joni lives with her husband of 39 years and has 2 grown children--one living in Sparks and the other in Oregon.

Kathy Doyle, e-Communications

Having Trouble Receiving RWR Emails?

Several RWR members have reported that they are not receiving emails from RWR such as the monthly compass newsletter, monthly luncheon flyer, or other email blasts. My apologies if this is happening to you. The email program that we use is Wild Apricot, an all-encompassing program that also manages our Membership data, Events registration, payment info, and more.

The first thing I do is check in Wild Apricot to make sure we have your correct email address on file. It is up to you to let us know when your email changes. We also suggest that you check your Spam folder in your email. Messages will come from "Republican Women of Reno" as the sender. Since our mass email list contains around 900 recipients, your email system might recognize our emails as Junk or Spam, so you should then try to "fix" your email account to allow emails coming from this address into your Inbox.

This is an especially busy election year with so much going on, so we don't want anyone to be left out of the loop!

VOTER ID PETITION SIGNATURES

RWR and other Republican Clubs across the state are gathering signatures to put a "Voter ID Required" Initiative on November's ballot. If it passes, we will have a Nevada Constitution Amendment that will require all voters to show a photo ID when they vote in person. If they are using their mail-in ballot, they will need the last four digits of a Nevada drivers license or the last four digits of their Social Security Number. If the voter doesn't have either of these, a number will be provided by the county clerk when the voter registered to vote.

If you would like to help gather signatures, President Debbie Hudgens, co-coordinators Joan Shoop and Denise Myer will have blank petition packets or the packets can be picked up at the Washoe County GOP Office during the week.

The only requirement to sign the petition is the person must be a registered voter in the state of Nevada.

Each petition packet is separate from another by county.

Our District (District 2) in Northern Nevada needs 35,000 signatures and each signature needs to be validated. We want to have the petition completed by the end of May.

Please help our dedicated team collect signatures at upcoming events.

Republican Women of Reno

Happy Spring!

The House passed the Protecting Americans from Foreign Adversary Controlled Applications Act (H.R. 7521) recently. It was supported by the Heritage Foundation.

Since there has been many questions and some confusion about TikTok, I thought I would provide the following information I received from the Heritage Foundation regarding myth vs facts of TikTok.

TikTok is owned by ByteDance, a Chinese company answerable by law to the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) and Chinese intelligence services. As long as TikTok continues to operate under the ownership of ByteDance in the United States, it enables a foreign adversary to collect information on U.S. citizens and strengthens China's ability to exploit Americans.

Myth vs Fact: Protecting Americans from Foreign Adversary Controlled Applications Act (H.R. 7521)

Myth #1: This bill would ban TikTok.

FACT: The bill gives TikTok a choice: either its Chinese parent company, ByteDance, must divest its ownership and sell the application to a non-Chinese, non-Russian, non-Iranian, or non-North Korean buyer, or the app will face restrictions on its availability in U.S. app stores, such as those operated by Google or Apple. Access to the app would only be disrupted if ByteDance refuses to comply with the divestiture requirement.

Myth #2: This bill targets TikTok users.

FACT: This does not include any enforcement action against individual TikTok users. In contrast, the bill requires covered applications to provide users with their data in a format that can be transferred to another social media app.

Myth #3: This bill would violate the 1st amendment and censor free speech.

FACT: The bill does nothing to restrict any content users post or any matter that might implicate the 1st amendment. It narrowly limits foreign ownership of applications to not include foreign adversaries. Regulating business conduct, not content, has long been upheld by the Supreme Court as distinct from the 1st Amendment.

Myth #4: TikTok's abuse should be addressed through privacy legislation.

FACT: Simply enacting privacy laws to restrict the access of data from China would not resolve the myriad issues stemming from CCP control of TikTok. The company claimed to do this through its infamous "Project Texas" yet, as the Wall Street Journal reported, personnel in China simply continued to access user data. Even strict privacy standards, such as those imposed in the EU, do not adequately address influence campaigns and the promotion of content harmful to children. Privacy laws would help, but they will not address the full scope of the national security threat emanating from CCP control over TikTok via ByteDance.

Myth #5: This bill would make other social media companies more powerful.

FACT: Nearly every TikTok user in the U.S. already uses other social media profiles. In fact, separating TikTok from its Chinese owners would likely make the app itself more attractive to potential users who are currently hesitant due to security concerns.

Myth #6: The bill gives the President an expansive new power to ban other apps.

FACT: The proposed legislation does not grant the President broad authority to ban apps at will. Instead, it establishes a stringent set of criteria that must be met before the narrow prohibition on foreign ownership can be applied to other applications. First, an application would need to be owned and controlled by China, Russia, Iran, or North Korea. Next, it must pose a significant threat to U.S. national security. Then the President must document and publicly disclose that threat to the U.S. Congress before initiating any enforcement actions against an application.

Myth #7: This bill is a slippery slope that would be used against conservatives.

FACT: The bill leaves no room for interpretation by bureaucrats when it comes to the question of ownership. It explicitly and narrowly defines the scope of its application to foreign adversary-controlled applications and associated websites controlled by China, Russia, Iran, or North Korea that pose a national security threat—a list that is both in statute and can only be changed by an act of Congress. (The reference to “websites” exists to ensure that foreign adversary controlled websites like TikTok.com don’t live on once app stores prohibit the apps themselves from being downloaded, should divestment fail.) Further, no individual users of the app can be targeted by the bill’s enforcement mechanisms.

Myth #8: TikTok is too big for anyone to buy.

FACT: Despite TikTok’s estimated value of hundreds of billions of dollars, several potential buyers have expressed interest in acquiring the company outright in recent years. The prospect of this legislation has further increased interest in such a deal. If ByteDance chooses not to sell TikTok following the passage of this bill, it would strongly suggest that the Chinese Communist Party board members have a significant non-financial motive to maintain the app’s surveillance capabilities for the Chinese government.

So, with this information, I ask the question: Why does the American government believe they are saving us from the CCP (Chinese Communist Party)? The argument given is it is an act of defense, preventing access to American data and minds. I put forth if this were true why does the American government allow the CCP to buy up our farmland, have control over our energy and communication, or control our economy (how many products do you find made in China vs made in USA), just to name a few points of argument and there are many more. In my opinion only, we should consider who this bill actually targets.

TURNING POINT ACTION

COALITIONS

Turning Point Action Coalitions is our newest approach to mobilize new activists and unify our nation. Within the conservative movement, numerous freedom-loving Americans hold cherished ideals. This is a great opportunity to get more involved with like-minded individuals and help recruit, organize, and activate the next generation of freedom fighters.

We invite you to join one of our multiple coalitions in your state!

TURNING POINT ACTION'S NEW COALITIONS WILL

- ★ IDENTIFY: Republican and targeted voters and build key relationships in states.
- ★ REGISTER: New voters and encourage them throughout the voting process.
- ★ INSPIRE: Thousands of freedom fighters at coalition events and rallies.
- ★ MOBILIZE: Hundreds of thousands of coalition members to polling locations on Election Day.

DID YOU KNOW

- * Costco has 53 million U. S. members who shop at their stores and 128 million worldwide. The annual membership totals $43.5B every year.
- * Cocoa is at an all new record high price - $10,080 per metric ton. The main cause is a low harvest crop in Eastern Africa. Prices are expected to continue to only get higher for the rest of the year.
- * Over 11 million women have been sexually assaulted while drunk or drugged.
- * There are 16 million military veterans in the United States.
- * A new genetic tool could be used to eliminate HIV from infected cells. Currently, medications stop the virus, but do not eliminate it. Further testing is needed to ensure safety and effectiveness.
- * In this country, credit card users' debt has totaled $1.1 Trillion.
- * Of the top ranked polluted cities in the world, most are in Asia. There are 83 cities in one country alone, India.
- * The 'Dirty Dozen,' as they are called, are 95% of non-organic fruits and vegetables with high pesticide levels. They include strawberries, leafy greens, grapes, pears, peaches, nectarines, apples, regular and hot bell peppers. Pesticides are linked to premature births, low sperm count, spontaneous abortions and congenital birth defects.
- * Up to 25% of the population has hypermobility (double jointed). About 5% has one double joint.
- * In New Orleans, the Police Headquarters is filled with rats. They're eating evidence and getting high on marijuana. The Criminal Justice Building, built in 1968, has broken elevators, plumbing and air conditioning issues. The estimated repair bill is over $6 million.
- * Baby Boomers are set to hand over $60 Trillion to their children when they die.
- * Annually, about 4.5 million medical visits are because a person has pneumonia.
- * The Swiss ride trains more than any other country. This small country has 16,000 miles of rail.
- * About 26 million people take a cruise every year.
- * The countries with the happiest people are: 1. Finland, for the 7th year in a row, 2. Denmark, 3. Iceland, 4. Sweden, 5. Israel! Young people in North America are now less happy than the elderly, pushing the U.S. out of the top 20 to number 23.
- * McDonald's plans to build 10,000 new restaurants by the end of 2027, for their goal of a total of 50,000 in the U.S. They will be adding three types of Krispy Kreme donuts to their breakfast menu.
- * It only takes 8 1/2 minutes for a child or young person watching a video describing it, to develop an eating disorder.
- * A survey showed 77% of Americans believe crime is on the rise.
- * In the 1977 Star Wars movie, Episode 4 - A New Hope, Luke Skywalker was sitting in Uncle Owen and Aunt Beru's kitchen drinking blue milk. The vanilla milk tinted with blue food coloring has become a cult classic. In time for May 4th (may the fourth be with you), the beverage will be sold in grocery stores across the country.

AI Class

Stephen Rowe from Leadership Institute led an engaging class on Artificial Intelligence (AI) in Reno. The event, which took place at the Atlantis Casino and Resort, attracted a diverse group of attendees eager to delve into the intricacies of this rapidly evolving technology.

Rowe's class was well-received for its comprehensive overview of AI and focused on using AI for conservatives. This could include helping with candidate elections, writing texts, emails and articles.

Throughout the class Rowe gave real life examples of how to use the technology. The class also used a site called gandalf. Fun, yet a real learning opportunity.
