

Twitter has a new name. It's now called X. Some of the documentation still uses the old name.

NOTE: These instructions assume you can access an email account but do not have a current X account. If you have a previous X or Twitter account that you cannot access, you can contact X for help or set up a new account using a new email address.

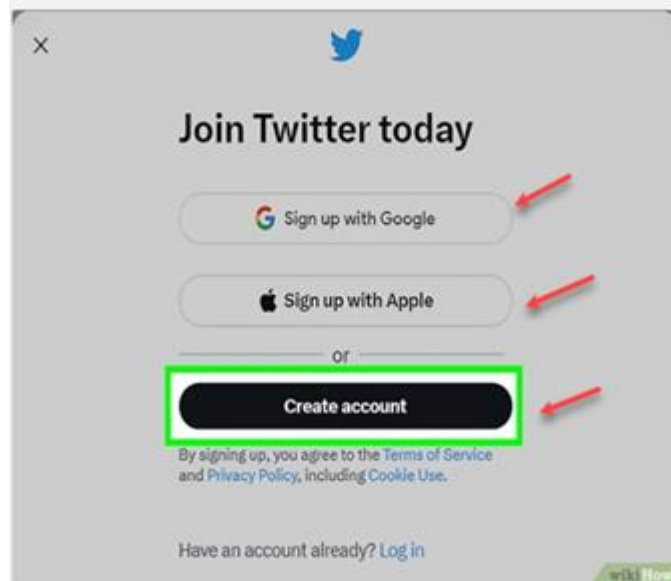

You need an email address or phone number to sign up for an X account.

If you are using your smart phone, go to the app store (Apple) or Google Play (Google) and download the Twitter/X app.

If you are using your computer open a browser and go to twitter.com<https://twitter.com/i/flow/signup>.

You can sign up using your Google or Apple accounts or create a new account. For this example, we will create a X account.

Click CREATE ACCOUNT

Enter a name. It can be your name, your dog's name or a pseudonym.

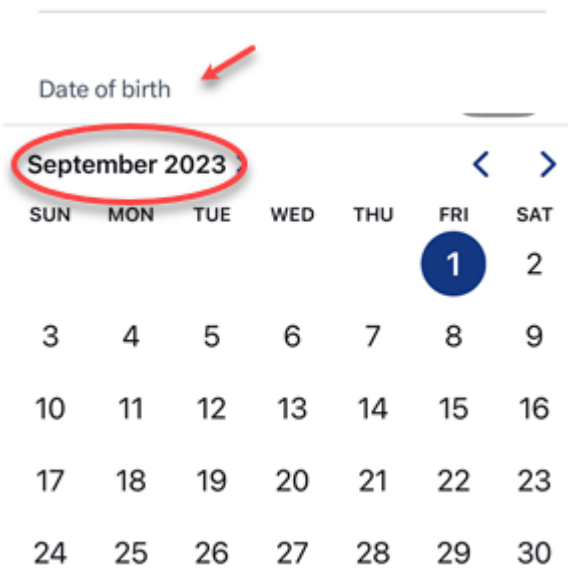

Enter a phone number. If you prefer an email address, click the blue link "Use email instead" and enter your email.

Enter your data of birth. Click the down arrow to choose the month, day and year.

Click NEXT to continue

If you are using an iPhone there is a different way to enter your birthday. Click in the area "DATE OF BIRTH". A calendar opens. Click on the month and year, September 2023.

A rolling date list allows you to scroll and select your date, month and year.

When you have finished entering your birth date click NEXT to continue

If you want X tracking you, keep the box checked. X claims that you get a better-customized experience. Uncheck the box to turn off tracking.

Click NEXT

Confirm your information. If you see green check marks, the information meets X requirements. If you see a red X, revise the information in the field.
